B (5) Quality of Program in comparison to existing programs

The proposed Criminal Justice for the Capital Area campus will be offered using the Disciplined-Based Dual Language Immersion Model®, which makes this offering unique in the state of Maryland. Courses will be taught 50% in English and 50% in Spanish, alternating language weekly. Graduates will demonstrate the knowledge, skills of imparting and managing social services and resources in the Criminal Justice System while gaining academic language proficiency needed to meet professional competencies in their field. This program does not duplicate any other program, as the incorporation of a dual language program at the university level is unique in Maryland and the U.S.

B (6) Analysis of the market for the program (see sections E (1-3))

B(7) State’s equal opportunity obligations under State and Federal Law

The approval of the program application expand the higher education opportunities of Hispanic minorities in the State, the region and the Nation. Thus advancing equal opportunities in higher education under State and Federal Law.

C (1) Critical and compelling regional or statewide need

In alignment to societal needs, including expanding educational opportunities and choices for minority and educationally disadvantaged students at institutions of higher education, the UAGM BA. major in Criminal Justice program offers a unique educational approach with the Discipline-Based Dual Language Immersion Model©. This innovative approach aligns with the 2017-2021 Maryland State Plan for Postsecondary Education, “Strategy 4: Continue to ensure equal educational opportunities for all Marylanders by supporting all postsecondary institutions.” The discipline-based dual language educational model for the Criminal Justice curriculum offers supportive, linguistically relevant, and culturally competent postsecondary learning environment conducive to the academic success of Maryland Hispanic students. C (2) Consistent with Maryland State Plan for Post Secondary Education

This degree program addresses the three goals of the 2017-2021 Maryland State Plan for Postsecondary Education by

Goal 1: Access, Affordability- by offering an affordable BA degree in Criminal Justice that encourages program completion in a dual-language setting will maximize employable bilingual candidates in a variety of criminal justice -related positions throughout Maryland. In addition, the University provides a course schedule offering that allows students to keep their current job while completing their degree, reducing the risk of not completing their degree and potentially allocating funds towards lowering their debt.

Goal 2: Success- this degree program builds knowledge and skills to meet the competencies of criminal justice graduates in a dual language setting that supports content and language development with resources and innovative technological tools facilitated by highly trained bilingual faculty in a multicultural environment.

Goal 3: Innovation- The University incorporates an innovative bilingual education model in higher education. The Discipline-Based Dual Language Immersion Model© develops faculty and staff to impart knowledge and skills both in content and language in a multicultural environment to students. Furthermore, this knowledge of content and language will add value to Maryland's economy by providing bilingual professionals in this field.

D (1) Societal Needs and Occupational needs (2)

The Hispanic population growth in the United States in the past decades is leading to Hispanics becoming the largest minority in the United States. In a Metropolitan Statistical Area (DC-MD-VA) of a over 6 million people (6,090,196 in 2017, US American Community Survey 5 year estimates) there are about a million Hispanics or roughly 15% of the total. According to the PEW Research Institute, the DC-MD-VA occupies the 9th position in the United States of MSA's with the largest Hispanic concentration.

This trend has not been accompanied by a corresponding growth of Hispanics entering and finishing undergraduate and graduate degrees in higher education. According to the 2016 U.S. Census, Hispanics attained undergraduate and graduated degrees at a lower level than other races and ethnic groups, with fewer adult Hispanics (11%) earning a bachelor's degree, compared to Asians (32%), Whites (23%) and Blacks (15%). At the graduate level, fewer adult Hispanics (4%) earned a master's degree compared to Asians (17%), Whites (10%) and Blacks (7%). The same trend was found at the doctoral level, with fewer Hispanics (.7%) attaining doctoral degrees than Asians (5%), Whites (2%) and Blacks (1%). This underrepresentation at the undergraduate and graduate levels among the largest minority group creates an opportunity for UAGM to offer minority students an innovative path to the attainment of higher education degrees.

UAGM academic efforts and services are to promote constructivist learning, respect for diversity, and social justice. Its mission is to promote the integral development of individuals, to become responsible, solidary citizens, able to contribute to the sustainable development of the environment through a socio-humanistic education of excellence; valuing research, internationalization, entrepreneurship, technology, culture and community engagement. All its resources support the academic offerings of the certificate, associate, bachelor, graduate studies, and continuing education programs in Puerto Rico and the United States, specifically Maryland. UAGM has included in its modality the Discipline-Based Dual Language Immersion Model® in the United States to offer Hispanic a higher level of access and success with a bilingual route for students interested in a higher level of proficiency in English to gain those skills while completing their undergraduate degree.

In alignment with UAGM-Cupey Campus particular focus on serving adults that would otherwise not have an opportunity to earn a degree, the proposed dual-language BA major in criminal justice program will attract the following groups of students in the state (although it may be of interest to other student populations as well):

1. Hispanic working adults who pursue a career in law enforcement and need to improve English language proficiency.
2. Adults are working full-time in local law enforcement agencies with responsibilities in Hispanic community outreach and provision of services.
3. Hispanic adults are pursuing bilingual careers in nonprofit, trade, and professional organizations and private industry with a focus in criminal justice.
4. Transfer students from associate degree programs in Maryland and other college programs as well as international students.

D (1) Societal and Occupational needs (2)

The Hispanic population growth in the United States in the past decades has led to Hispanics becoming the largest minority in the United States. This trend has not been accompanied by a corresponding growth of Hispanics entering and finishing undergraduate and graduate degrees in higher education. According to the 2016 U.S. Census, Hispanics attained undergraduate and graduated degrees at a lower level than other races and ethnic groups, with fewer adult Hispanics (11%) earning a bachelor's degree, compared to Asians (32%), Whites (23%) and Blacks (15%). At the graduate level, fewer adult Hispanics (4%) earned a master's degree compared to Asians (17%), Whites (10%) and Blacks (7%). The same trend was found at the doctoral level, with fewer Hispanics (.7%) attaining doctoral degrees than Asians (5%), Whites (2%) and Blacks (1%). This underrepresentation at the undergraduate and graduate levels among the largest minority group creates an opportunity for UAGM to offer minority students an innovative path to the attainment of higher education degrees.

UAGM academic efforts and services are to promote constructivist learning, respect for diversity, and social justice. Its mission is to promote the integral development of individuals, to become responsible, solidary citizens, able to contribute to the sustainable development of the environment through a socio-humanistic education of excellence; valuing research, internationalization, entrepreneurship, technology, culture and community engagement. All its resources support the academic offerings of the certificate, associate, bachelor, graduate studies, and continuing education programs in Puerto Rico and the United States, specifically Maryland. UAGM has included in its modality the Discipline-Based Dual Language Immersion Model® in the United States to offer Hispanic a higher level of access and success with a bilingual route for students interested in a higher level of proficiency in English to gain those skills while completing their graduate degree.

In alignment with CAC particular focus on serving adults that would otherwise not have an opportunity to earn a degree, the proposed dual-language the MBA in Accounting program will attract the following groups of students in the state (although it may be of interest to other student populations as well):

1. Hispanic working adults who pursue a career in business and need to improve English language proficiency.
2. Adults are working full-time in local private and business sectors.
3. Hispanic adults are pursuing bilingual careers in nonprofit, trade, and professional organizations and private industry with a focus in managing.
4. Transfer students from associate degree programs in Maryland and other college programs as well as international students.
